The great thing about microstock photography is that it's a very passive income stream. Once you've uploaded your photos to a marketplace, they can be sold over and over again without you having to do anything else.

How can I make money with microstock photography?

There are a few things you need to do to start making money with microstock photography:

- Create high-quality photos
- Upload your photos to a microstock marketplace
- Promote your photos

Create high-quality photos

The first step to making money with microstock photography is to create high-quality photos. This means taking sharp, well-composed photos that are free of any defects.

Here are a few tips for taking high-quality photos:

- Use a good camera
- Learn the basics of photography
- Take your time and compose your shots carefully

Upload your photos to a microstock marketplace

Once you have some high-quality photos, you need to upload them to a microstock marketplace. There are many different marketplaces to choose from, so do some research to find one that's a good fit for you.

When you're uploading your photos, be sure to choose the right keywords. Keywords are what people will use to search for your photos, so it's important to choose ones that are relevant to your work.

Promote your photos

Once you've uploaded your photos to a marketplace, you need to promote them so that people can find them. There are a few different ways to promote your photos, such as:

- Social media
- Email marketing
- Paid advertising

How much can I make with microstock photography?

The amount of money you can make with microstock photography depends on a number of factors, such as the quality of your photos, the keywords you choose, and the amount of time you spend promoting them.

However, it's possible to make a decent income from microstock photography. Some photographers make over $10,000 per month from selling their photos.

Is microstock photography right for me?

Microstock photography is a great way to make money from your photography. It's a passive income stream that can help you to supplement your income or even replace your day job.
